CBFC CLUB WEBSITE

CLUB PURPOSE: To promote the sport of fly fishing, to conserve regional fishing resources, and to encourage friendship and cooperation among all anglers.

NEXT MEETING: 10 Feb 2015, at Country Gentlemen Restaurant, Kennewick.
Dinner menu: beef tips over noodles, broccoli/cauliflower medley, green salad, bread.

His book, "Fishes of the Columbia Basin {A guide to their natural history and identification}" was published in 2009.

PROGRAM: Our own Dennis Dauble, will discuss "Fishing Blue Mountain Streams: Secret Holes and Bald-Faced Lies."

His talk will be pretty much a travelogue about several streams, with emphasis on rainbow trout and steelhead, with some bull trout and just plain bull tossed in.

Dennis is an author, retired scientist, and educator.

Just a few of his recent articles are: "Rainbows of the Blues," Northwest Sportsman, Oct 2011; "Jubilee Lake, OR," Northwest Fly Fishing, Jul/Aug 2012; "Getting the Jump on Columbia Basin Trout," WA-OR Game & Fish, March 2013; "A Tribute to Tributaries," WA-OR Game & Fish, Jun 2013; "Tucannon River, WA" Northwest Fly Fishing, Sep/Oct 2014.

DO THE DUES

Please renew 2015 membership now. Print form on last page. Bring dues and form to next meeting or mail them to P.O. Box shown on form. Grace period ends 1Mar.

President Thanks Volunteers

As I look out at the rainy winter weather, I remind myself that fishing on Lenice, Nunnally, and some other pothole lakes is only a month away and we can look forward to better weather soon. Don't miss our first club outing at Rocky Ford, hosted by Ted Poston Saturday, 28 Feb. It's time to get serious about tying flies for the upcoming season and for the Annual Banquet. Don't forget to buy your banquet tickets before March 1. Tickets can be obtained at the February meeting from Dale Schielke.

We had an excellent turnout of Club volunteers to help at the Sportsman Show. It is one of the few opportunities that we have each year to promote fly fishing and the club. Special thanks to Jim Saunders and Ted Poston for organizing the event and managing the booth and the fly tying theater.

The Fly Fishing Show in Lynnwood, WA, is on February 14 and 15. The show provides an opportunity to get out of the house, watch noted fly tiers, learn new fly fishing techniques, and see some of the latest gear. I always learn something new, and usually find a reason to acquire some new gear.

We need to schedule some more Club-sponsored fishing outings for 2015. In addition to fishing, they provide an occasion to become better acquainted with other club members. If you would like to organize or recommend an outing please let a board member know.

Get Your Tickets NOW for Annual CBFC BANQUET

March 7, 2015 at Meadow Springs Country Club.

Tickets are $40 pp and must be purchased before March 1st. No ticket sales at the door. Get tickets from Sportsman Warehouse, Ranch & Home. You can also get tickets from Dale Schielke at February meeting or call him. No-host cocktails, raffle/auction bidding begin at 5:30p, dinner will be served at 6:45p with program to follow dinner.

Our guest speaker will be Craig Mathews. He is an author, professional fly tier, guide, outfitter, and active conservationist. Craig has authored and co-authored 9 important books on fishing. His latest, co-authored with Patagonia Inc. founder, Yvon Chouinard. "Simple Fly-Fishing with Tenkara" was released in April 2014. The book has already sold 40,000 copies and has won 2 prestigious awards; the Banff Mountain Guidebook of the Year and the National Outdoor Book Award for a guidebook and instructional quality. It should be a great program.

Craig will also do a free fly-tying demo at 1p at Meadow Springs. Craig ties 750-1,000 dozen flies each year.

Craig co-founded 1% for the Planet, an alliance of businesses donating 1% of their gross sales to approved research and conservation causes. To date, 1% for the Planet has donated over $135 million to conservation and environmental programs!

We still need candidates for the Annual Smashed Hackle award. Send your nominations to the event Lead Coordinator Denny Kreid.

Klinkhammer Special

by Craig Anderson

The Klinkhammer Special is one of my favorite flies, and for certain, my favorite emerger pattern. I have had good luck (whatever little luck I have) at Rocky Ford with this fly especially when a slight breeze bounces it on the surface. This pattern is well known and graces the book cover of Jim Schollmeyer and Ted Leeson's Tying Emergers. The fly is attributable to Hans van Klinken. If you want to read how he ties it, see the Spring 2014 Edition of Fly Tyer magazine. If you want a copy of the article, let me know. This pattern is also a favorite of our very own past-President, Dennis Collins.

There are three types of emerger patterns: those that lie almost entirely in the film, those whose abdomen hangs down from the surface at an angle, and those whose abdomen hangs down from the surface perpendicularly. This Klinkhammer Special is the second type. The pattern can be tied in a host of combinations of hackle, abdomen/thorax, and post colors. What follows is the standard pattern:

- Hook - Standard scud hooks, TMC 2487 or 2488, Daiichi 1130, in sizes #8 to #18
- Thread - Tan 8/0
- Post - White Polypropylene Yarn (Floatable, works great)
- Abdomen - Light tan polyester dubbing (for a rougher appearance, rabbit hair dubbing)
- Thorax - Peacock herl
- Hackle - Light dun, one size larger than is called for by the hook size

Debarb the hook, lay a thread base half way down the hook and return the thread to the one-third point.

Tie in a bundle of white poly yarn. Use only half of the thickness of the yarn. I used Wapsi yarn, which requires combing to eliminate crinkles.

Fold both ends of the bundle up and wrap thread above the hook shank to form a tight post. Build up a thread base at the bottom of the post to accommodate 3 or 4 wraps of hackle later. Trim down post, if necessary, but not to final length. Other techniques can be used for mounting the post, but I have found this the easiest.

Reposition the hook shank vertically in the vise, so that the eye points downward and tie hackle stem to post.

Reposition hook and add dubbing from middle of the bend to just short of the post. Increase the diameter of the abdomen as you dub.

Tie in 2 or 3 pieces of peacock herl near base of post and palmer the herl around shank on both sides of post. Position thread above hook shank on the post.

Palmer hackle down around post starting at top of thread base. Tie in hackle ON the post, whip finish ON the post. Trim post to desired height.

9th Annual Rocky Ford Club Outing and Chili Feed

by Ted Poston

The Rocky Ford fishing trip is Saturday, 28 Feb, 2015. As usual, there will be chili and hot dogs served at 1p. There will be a sign-up sheet at the Club meeting 10 Feb. Please sign up if you plan on going. We need an accurate head count so we will have enough chili and dogs for everyone.

Rocky Ford is due east of Ephrata and south of Soap Lake. The drive takes about 2 hours from Richland. Those wishing to carpool or caravan with other Club members, will meet at the north end of the Richland WINCO parking lot. We will depart at 7:30a. Those who wish to carpool should arrive at least by 7:15a. You can also just show up at Rocky Ford. Access to Rocky Ford is via Hatchery Rd NE, about 17 miles north of Moses Lake on WA SR 17. See http://wdfw.wa.gov/lands/water\_access/30182/

Rocky Ford is a catch & release fishery, with special fly-fishing only regulations. A Discover Pass or Vehicle Access Pass is REQUIRED. Wading is prohibited. Our State's only spring creek, it holds 5-8 pound Rainbows as well as decent 16-20" fish. The water is fishable all year due to the spring's constant water temperature.

There is a new wrinkle this year. The bridge near the south parking lot is out of service. (See article on Page 6) Since wading is prohibited, there is no way to cross the creek without walking up to the hatchery or sprouting wings.

Wear warm boots that will withstand moisture and grip slippery surfaces. Dress in layers of warm clothes, including rain or snow protection. If it is really cold, chest waders can help you stay warm. A landing net is really helpful to avoid fish injury during bank landings. Flies should include size 14-18 olive scuds, 18-20 BWO's, 22-24 black midges, parachute Adams, blood worms. Don't forget good, old "Woolly Buggers"; brown and chartreuse have been effective in the past.

If you need additional information, contact Ted Poston. tmpkap1@clearwire.net or 438-0531. Co-coordinators: Ted Poston and John Strand.

FREE Fly Tying Class Soon

by Craig Anderson

Columbia Basin Fly Casters annually conduct fly tying classes to help beginning tiers get started, or to sharpen the skills of more experienced tiers. Attendees will tie about fifteen patterns over five classes, from Woolly Buggers to Wulff-style dry flies and everything in between. Some Steelhead flies, emergers, and wet flies are included. Classes will start at 6:00PM, February 11th and will run for five consecutive Wednesdays ending on March 11th.

If you signed up at the Sportsman's Show in January, you will be contacted by Craig Anderson (628-9802) regarding some additional details including location. If you want to attend and did not sign up at the Show, contact Craig. No tools or materials are required to be provided by students, and there is no cost for attending. Helpers are needed as usual. Hope you can attend.

The Perfect Rod

by Dennis Dauble

It was day one of the 2014 Tri-Cities Sportsman Show and four club members shared the afternoon shift at the Columbia Basin Fly Caster's booth. Dennis sat at the fly tying station, John demonstrated fly tying basics to eager youngsters and Fred stood by my side selling raffle tickets for a chance at a fly rod outfit. As we were instructed by Jim upon arrival, "One ticket costs a dollar, three tickets are $2, but don't emphasize either because we would prefer they buy ten tickets for $5."

Most of the crowd was old guys like myself, retired or soon hoping to be. No wonder with tickets half price for age 65 and older. The end result was more people stopping to BS than buy raffle tickets.

I mentioned to the other Dennis that we weren't making much progress towards shifting club demographics. "Too bad we can't attract younger people." I said. "I tried to get a young woman to join the club, but she was more interested in riding herd on her 4-year old."

"I fully understand," he replied. "It's tough when you unleash your charms and find the customer unreceptive."

Meanwhile, our open bowl of hard candy received more attention than raffle tickets. Hoping to catch someone's eye, I stepped up to demonstrate a cast with our four-piece, 5-weight "Three Creek Outfitters" fly rod (retail value $129). Whether due to luck or clever marketing, I immediately sold a raffle ticket to a man who imagined he would fly fish if only he had a new rod.

Languishing in my success, I took a break to converse with Ron who stopped to kill time between the Bengal tiger demonstration and Cee Dub's Dutch oven cook-off. Ron and I discussed the weather which led to cleaning out the garage because neither of us had a fishing story. "I found a 3-weight fly rod I forgot I had bought." I said. "That's the problem with having too much gear."

Ron replied, "I recently organized my fly rod collection. I had over 20 rods scattered about the garage. Some were good, some were from yard sales and others were given to me. I took my 10 best out to the back yard and tested them with assorted reels. Some of the line was over 50 years old."

"From back in the days when you didn't know the difference between weight forward, fast sink and floating line?" I said.

"More like when your tippet was a length of mono from a 500-yard spool," he replied. "Anyway, I decided to conduct an experiment. I established criteria that included ease of casting, distance and feel. I tested every rod with each reel to see which combination was best."

I was impressed. Selling raffle tickets went on the back burner until I got to the heart of this one. "So which one came out first?" I asked.

"What's funny was my $15 Ace Hardware fiberglass rod, c. 1950, rated in the top six," he said. "I decided to keep it as a backup along with five graphite rods that rated high. The rest of the rods and several obsolete reels went to the Goodwill."

"That's interesting," I said. "Fiberglass rods are often advertised as having desired characteristics for deep-sea trolling, where you need more backbone to fight a trophy-sized fish. I've also read that professional bass anglers prefer fiberglass rods to throw crankbait."

"Fiberglass is also cheaper," Ron replied.

"I wouldn't use that as a reason to argue for its use though," I said. "I'd emphasize characteristics like improved balance, comeback rate or control."

"There's a sad ending," he continued. "I laid the fiberglass rod on the garage floor while I organized the rest of my gear and my wife backed over it in the car."

"That is a sad tale," I said, but the truth was I was speechless. The finale, while quick and merciful, was a tragedy of great proportions. What could have been a tale of perseverance, redemption or triumph of spirit became a tale of woe when the fiberglass rod was rendered obsolete by the needless action of a 14-inch radial tire.

I stepped back from the milling geriatric crowd and carefully leaned the raffle fly rod against the back façade of the booth where it would be safe. With limited use, it might have a long and useful life.

Reasons to go fishing

1. It's Tuesday.
2. "Honey, the streamers are hatching."
3. My boots are dry.
4. The wood on the drift boat is shrinking.
5. I can't let Ron go alone. He's not a strong swimmer.

Need YOUR HELP with Rocky Ford Bridge Repair

by Mike Wade

The lower foot bridge on Rocky Ford Creek has been declared unsafe and closed. The bridge is crucial for access to the east side of the creek.

The current state budget includes funds for the Washington Fish and Wildlife Department (WDFW) to repair or replace the bridge. For more information about the project please visit the Washington State Council of the International Federation of Fly Fishers website. The WSCIFFF is asking fly clubs and individuals to encourage legislators to leave funds in the budget to use to repair the bridge.

The CBFC Board has written a letter on behalf of the Club. Now we ask you to please write personal letters to your state senator and representatives. To find your legislators go to <http://app.leg.wa.gov/DistrictFinder/> Type in your street address. The names of your senator and two representatives and their contact information will come up.

The Washington State Legislative Session started on January 12, 2015, so we need to get our letters in ASAP.

My Favorite Accessory

by Ron Reed

My most often used fishing accessory is a patented tool called a “Tail Knottr.” I bought the tool at the Tri-Cities Sportsman Show a few years ago for $10. And I use it every time I go fishing. I use it most often to attach flies or terminal tackle to my leader. I can quickly change flies, even when my hands are cold, my fingers numb, the light is fading, and the tippet is 5X. Most of the time, I don’t even need to get out my magnifying glasses.

I prefer my own hand-made leaders to one-piece tapered leaders. My leaders, with as many as 20 nail knots, roll out better for me. And curiously, I get fewer wind knots in my already knotted leaders, than in one-piece taped leaders. The Tail Knottr really helps tying all those nail knots.

Another use for the nail knots is for tying small sections of old discarded floating or sinking lines around the leader. These nail knots function as small adjustable floats, sinkers, strike indicators, or bobber stops.

In addition to tying the patented Tail Knot, the tool can be used to tie over 30 different knots, including virtually all the standard knots used in fishing. I keep the tool handy on a lanyard along with forceps, floatant, and nippers.

The tool is available from Cabela’s and other online sources. Here’s a link to the manufacturer’s website: <http://tailknottr.com/tst/>

Thank You Sportsman Show Volunteers

by Jim Saunders

We had another wonderful time at the show. I want to thank everyone who volunteered to make this annual event so much fun. Club members who demonstrated fly tying at our booth were: Dennis Dauble, Rich Weaver, Rich Holten, Craig Anderson, Dennis Collins, Ron Reed, and Mike Wade.

The Kids Fly-Tying table was supported by Rich Weaver, Fred Riedel, Mac Ryan, Duane Horton, Rod Gilge, Rich Holten, and Brett, Kaitlyn, and Darius Grogan.

Booth volunteers selling raffle tickets and sign ups for our free classes for Fly Tying, Rod Building and Fly Casting were: John Strand, Jim Yarborough, Diane & Wade Warrant, Bob Schulz, Randy Cannon, Larry Dow, Sheldon Coleman, Leslie & Rusty Morlan, Russ Brown, Rick Nelson, Marty Ottem, and Marv Erickson.

The raffle winners were Alan Ono who chose the Echo 5 Wt, 4-piece, 9-ft Rod and Reel; and, Kim Leverett who took the Float Tube.

Thank You Fly Tiers

by Ted Poston

Several Club members participated in the fly-tying theater at the Sportsman Show. The quality of the presentations was outstanding. The presentations included history of the flies, recommended materials, and tips on where and how to fish the flies. These presentations were as good as any that I have seen at the major fly-fishing shows. Eight club members tied: Craig Anderson (2), Ken Gano, Rich Holten, Dennis Collins, Mike Wade, Ron Reed, Dennis Kreid (2) and Ted Poston (3). Paul Anderson, owner of a fly shop in the Dalles, OR also tied.

Make Reservations for East Lake Outing SOON

by Dennis Kreid

The East Lake, Oregon, outing is scheduled for August 11 thru 16. People may come and go any day. However, please plan to attend a Club potluck dinner Saturday evening August 15. The dinner will be at the Cinder Hill Campground on the south shore of East Lake. There are RV sites with power, water hook ups, and showers at the nearby East Lake Resort and at Thousand Trails outside Sunriver.

These dates overlap the 50th Anniversary of the Federation of Fly Fishers Conclave in Bend, and may also overlap the Sun River Classical Music Festival. Folks looking for reservations in Sun River or at the East Lake Resort should probably make reservations as soon as possible, since it is going to be a busy summer in the area. Campsite reservations at Cinder Hill Campground can be made beginning six months prior (11 Feb) to the arrival date. I suggest reservations in sites 1 thru 35 in the West Loop, so Club members are grouped together.

Please let Dennis Kreid, outing coordinator, know the site and dates of your reservation to help us plan the outing.

BIG Fish in East Lake

East Lake and its neighbor, Paulena Lake, are beautiful alpine lakes nestled in the Newberry Crater about 35 miles SE of Bend Oregon.

Both lakes are stocked with Kokanee, Brown-, Rainbow-, and Brook-Trout. Brown Trout as large as 20 pounds have been caught in East Lake. Watch for article by Sheldon Coleman on tips to fish these lakes in the July Newsletter.

CBFC Board Meeting Minutes

January 27, 2014

Call to order: 7:05 PM

Board Members Present: Jim Loomis, Craig Anderson, Marty Ottem, Mike Wade, Ron Reed, John Strand, Rich Weaver, Rod Gilge

Visitors: Jim Saunders, Ted Poston, Dennis Kreid

Secretary's Report – Mike Wade there was no December meeting and therefore no minutes to be review and approve.

Treasurer's Report – Marty Ottem presented the Profit and Loss Statement and monthly financial summary. The Club's finances remain in good shape. The budget for 2015 was discussed and several categories were adjusted. The budget was approved by the Board.

VP Membership Report – Rich Holten was absent but Jim Loomis reported that the club has 111 members. To date, 68 membership dues have been paid. A reminder will be added to the newsletter that memberships will be dropped if dues are not paid by the end of March.

Programs Report – Craig Anderson reported that the February meeting speaker will be Dennis Dauble who will discuss fishing the Blue Mountains. Craig Mathews of Blue Ribbon Flies will be the speaker at the Annual Banquet in March. No speakers have been booked for April or May. Mike Wade volunteered to speak at the April meeting and share his experiences in Chile.

Newsletter Editor's Report – Ron Reed reported that he has received several positive responses to his request from members for articles for the newsletter. He will issue future newsletters on the Friday preceding the monthly meeting. This should give members the time and information they might need to decide on attendance prior to being contacted by the callers on Sunday.

Other Business –

Sportsmans Show – Jim Saunders reported that the club booth was a success, though overall attendance at the show on Sunday was disappointing due, most likely, to the NFL Playoff game. The childrens' fly tying tables were once again quite popular. Ted Poston reported that the Fly Tying Theater presentations by club members were well received and very informative. However, the attendance was very low during the late afternoons and particularly low on Sunday. He will discuss some options for next year with the Show promoters.

Annual Banquet – Dennis Kreid reported that the plans and activities for the Annual Banquet are well under way and on track. He needs nominations for the Smashed Hackle Award. Craig Anderson took an action to solicit nominations at the February club meeting.

Casting for Recovery – Ted Poston presented information about the Casting for Recovery breast cancer support program. In addition to donations, there are several potential ways the Club might be able assist with this organization. Ted will discuss with them how we can best help.

Rocky Ford Bridge – Mike Wade presented information he received from the Washington State Council of the International Federation of Fly Fishers concerning the lower bridge at Rocky Ford Creek. The bridge is in need of replacement and the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife has included this in their proposed 2015 budget. They are asking clubs and individuals to contact their state legislators and urge them to support the budget request. The Board approved sending a letter of support on behalf of the Club and will urge members to do likewise.

Newsletter Issues/Concerns – Ron Reed presented several issues and concerns about content, preparation and distribution of the newsletter. Of particular concern is the high cost of providing hard copy distribution. Only about 20 members have requested hard copies and a few are mailed to other clubs. The Board approved a plan to reduce this cost by urging members to shift to electronic copies and where that is not possible to provide black and white copies rather than color copies. Distribution to other clubs will be shifted to electronic copies only. Several other newsletter-related items will require changes to the By-Laws. Mike Wade will submit proposed changes to the Board for consideration at the February Board Meeting. Members can obtain a copy of the proposed changes and make comments on them by contacting Mike Wade.

Outings – The proposed outings schedule was reviewed and updated. Ted Poston will lead an outing to Rocky Ford Creek on February 28. Rod Gilge will lead an outing to Lenice Lake in April.

Meeting adjourned at 9:15 PM.

Respectfully submitted, Mike Wade, Secretary
